Debrief of March 28 meeting with the public. Though numbers were low, the quality of discussion was exceptional. Those who attended had good feedback. We will be having more public meetings in the future during this process. Sara said she needs to know what the plan does and what it is for and how it will effect people. Zarina suggested we make the Power Point presentation from the meeting available to people as those issues were addressed. We are trying to address the problem of public outreach.

We changed the topic header of 'climate resilience' to 'Ecological and Infrastructure Resilience'.

We assigned sections of the plan to each member of the commission to be responsible for writing.

Martha and Jesse will do education, land use and transportation

Zarina will do flood residence, utilities and facilities, and economic development

Suzanna will do history, natural, scenic and historic resources, housing, and energy.

There will be a gathering of residents with knowledge of Walden history to inform the history section.

Jesse suggested to take a month on each topic.

We will return to having one meeting a month.

Our next meeting will be May 8.
